July 9 To day the Governor issued the following

Proclamation.

By Richard C. McCormick, Governor of the Territory of Arizona, announcing his assumption of official duties.

To the People of Arizona.

Having been appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate of the United States as Governor of the Territory of Arizona I have this day taken the required oath, and assumed the duties of the office.

My familiarity with the organization and progress of the Territory, my connection with its government from the beginning and my knowledge of its rich resources, are guarantees that I shall intelligently, as I shall rigorously labor to promote its best interests, and I ask the cordial co-operation of all citizens, regardless of local, personal & political considerations!

The hour is auspicious for the Territories; the tumult of war has ceased, the unity of the States is restored, freedom is universal, industry is revived and the animating influences of a new era of national peace and prosperity are already felt upon the Frontier.

Energy of action, tenacity of purpose confidence and harmony, as hitherto known by the people of Arizona will speedily overcome every obstacle to the development of the country securing an abundant reward to individual enterprise and commanding for the Territory an enviable position among the new possessions of the Republic.

Nov 8 To day the Governor issued the following Proclamation

By Richard C. McCormick, Governor of the Territory of Arizona, recommending a day of Thanksgiving.

To the People of Arizona.

Whereas, the President of the United States

1866 has by proclamation, designated Thursday the 29 of November as a general day of Thanksgiving and praise to God for his mercies and benefits.

Now therefore, I Richard C. McCormick Governor of the Territory of Arizona, in accordance therewith, and with a time honored usage dear to the American People, do recommend that even on this far frontier, the day be devoted to rest from secular pursuits and to grateful acknowledgements of the blessings vouchsafed to us.

If we are without religious organizations and houses of worship and enjoy of the privileges and restraints of society in the Territories and States, let it not appear that we are unmindful of our dependence upon the "Giver of all good" but from Camp and camp, from mine & ranch, let our thanks however informal in their utterance ascend to heaven in a spirit of sincere devotion.

Humbly and devoutly let us implore Divine guidance in our pioneer enterprises & in all our acts as a people: and for the nation let our prayer be that its unity may be speedily restablished upon principles of liberty, justice and righteousness "the effect of which shall be quietness and assurance forever."

May 1st To day the Governor issued the following Proclamation

By Richard C. McCormick, Governor of the Territory of Arizona, announcing the Apportionment of Members of the Legislature under the Census of 1867.

To all whom it may concern.

Whereas, under Chapter XIV of the Code of said Territory and the amendments thereto it is provided that in the month of March in each year the Assessor of each county in the Territory shall take a census or enumeration of the inhabitants thereof; and

Whereas, it is further provided that upon such Census or enumeration being returned to the Governor he shall, on or before the first day in May, determine and apportion the number of members of each branch of the Legislature to which each County is entitled, under such census or enumeration; and thereafter, and until another apportionment shall be made each county shall elect the numbers so appointed to such county; and Whereas, it is further provided that upon such determination and apportionment made by the Governor, he shall issue his proclamation; announcing such apportionm't and the basis of population upon which the same is made.

Now therefore, in pursuance of the duty so enjoined upon me, D. Richard C. McCormick Governor of the Territory of Arizona, do hereby announce that having received certified copies of the census returns for the present year (excepting for the County of Pah-Ute, in the absence of which I have made use of those for 1864) and duly examined the same, I have made the following apportionment of members of the Legislature to which each County is entitled and until another apportionment shall be made each county will elect the number of members so appointed to each county, viz

The County of Pima four members of the Council and seven (members of the House.

The County of Yuma, one member of the Council and three members of the House.

The Counties of Mohave and Pah-Ute together one member of the Council and two members of the House.

The County of Yavapai three members of the Council and six members of the House

Said apportionment being upon the basis of a population of eight hundred persons to one member of the Council and of four hundred persons to one member of the House.

It being understood however that while in accordance with law, this apportionment is made to include members of both branches of the Legislature, there will be no election

1867 of members of the Council the present year except to fill vacancies by resignation or death — the members of the Council being chosen for two years.
